

j'tiens l'soleil au creux d'ma main comme la mer dans un coquillage

i hold the sun in the hollow of my hand

like the sea in a shell

eva zimmerli is a swiss graphic designer and photographer who stimulates her creative process through daily life and instinct. distorting her vision, pushing her mediums to their limits and experimenting with new ways of capturing is what sets her practice apart. the visuals can then take on different forms and uses for new interactions.

my way of capturing is my way of telling my truth. print the omnipresent. stop the impalpable, photograph skies and seas. "saturn is my planet and the moon is my sun ~ i share my feelings about my world." transform to admire, gravitate, create interference.

exposed for the first time at lange + pult gallery in switzerland.
